

Dauerausschreibung / Permanent vacancy

Working Student / Internship for Technology Management

The future originates from today's ideas. All it takes is the ability to realise them. Florenus actively supports companies, scientists, and inventors to conceptualise and realise the maximum value of the different options for exploiting new technologies. We offer our clients comprehensive technology management covering the marketing of technology (Technology Trading), consultancy (Technology Consulting), including the search as well as the identification of required technologies (Technology Scouting), arranging financing and introducing new technologies into the market (Technology Services). We concentrate upon the strong growth portfolios of Cleantech, innovative materials and processes, information and telecommunications technology (ICT), medical technology and security technology.

Your duties and responsibilities:

- Identification of important, application-oriented technology topics in the growing market
- Carry out initial commercial and IP assessment of inventions, including use of on-line searching, patent information services and other market research techniques
- Structured customer needs assessment in the field of technology and preparation of topics in co-operation with companies, industry networks, research institutes and project partners
- Support on Innovation management and IP strategy project development and realisation
- Compilation and analysis of research work in various fields of technology

Profile:

- Student in engineering or natural science or business with an on-going interest in advances in science and their practical application beyond research
- Meticulous, detail orientated with strong organisational and time management skills
- Some background knowledge of IP, especially the workings of the patent system would be advantageous
- Experience in or awareness of, technology and knowledge transfer activities at universities as well as of research structures in the industry are advantageous
- English is a must & German is a plus
- Start upon agreement & long term employment opportunity (min 3 months)
- Fair salary

Contact: Bünyamin Yildiz
Tel: +49 (0) 30 887 11 5517
Mail: buenyamin.yildiz@florenus.com